

Fabio Spizzichino - Curriculum Vitae

Personal Details

Place and Date of Birth: Rome, Italy, 01.16.1948

Citizenship: Italian

Career

1975- 1979: Assistant Professor of Probability Theory, University of Siena, Italy.

1979-1983: Assistant Professor of Mathematical Statistics, University "La Sapienza", Rome, Italy.

1983-1990: Associate Professor of Mathematical Statistics, University "La Sapienza", Rome, Italy.

1990 - 2018: Professor of Probability Theory, University "La Sapienza", Rome, Italy.

Retired from University "La Sapienza", since November 1, 2018.

Education

1972 Laurea in Matematica, University "La Sapienza", Rome, Italy.

Main Research Interests

Probability theory and applications. Bayesian Statistics. Markov processes and point processes. Copulas, Dependence and stochastic orders. Non-negative random variables, order statistics and multivariate models for ordered statistical data. Reliability of complex systems, Survival analysis, Semi-copulas and notions of Ageing. Algebraic approach to systems' reliability, Multi-attribute utility functions, Insurance, and Risk Theory. Monotone (non-additive) set functions and fuzzy integrals. Stochastic filtering and optimal stopping. Occupancy and Urn Models. Paradoxes in Probability, Statistics, Voting Theory. Non-transitive preferences in individual decisions and voting theory.

Work in progress

E. De Santis, F. Spizzichino. Construction of voting situations concordant with ranking patterns. Submitted.
